

A Fun Fairy Tale

Read this fairy tale about a prince, an ogre and a princess with a flying machine.

Once, there was a young prince who had been locked away in a tall tower. His door was guarded by a fierce ogre, who was under strict orders to eat anyone who came to visit the prince.

One day, the prince heard a tap at his window.

He turned and saw his sister, the princess, who had come to rescue him in her homemade flying machine.

Quietly, he climbed out of the window and jumped on board. They flew away into the clouds, leaving the ogre shouting and waving his fist in the air.
